

Take a training course to learn lifesaving skills from the experts!

The German Red Cross in Dresden offers a special first aid course, conducted in English! The certificate from this course is required when obtaining a driving license and is also needed for first aiders in companies.

In the course, each participant learns how to respond to traumatic and medical emergencies.

In the classroom you will have the opportunity to learn from and interact with a Red Cross instructor who will guide you through hands-on practise of lifesaving skills.

Date of the classes: 5th & 26th November 2016

8:00 a.m. - 3:45 p.m.

Klingerstraße 20

01139 Dresden

participation fee: 35 €

The practical part can be outside. So please have in mind bringing weather proof cloth.

Please contact us for further information and for signing up.

phone: +49 351 8500215

e-mail: ausbildung@drk-dresden.de web: www.drk-kurs.de

